

Week 4 Comments

Indent comments at the same level as the code.

You should check for valid inputs. A payroll application should not allow negative numbers for hours and rates.

Good job handling the complex logic here!

Nice solution!

You need to check for a valid hex digit before trying to process it.

Your code needs to be indented consistently.

You should use '0' and '9' here (characters, rather than numbers)

The output needs to be formatted as dollars and cents. (for example, 780.00 rather than 780.0)
